Preface

This volume contains the papers presented at the 1st Asia-Pacific Software Engineering and Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion workshop (APSEDEI 2022), which will be held on December 6, 2022, virtually.

There were three submissions. Each submission was reviewed by three program committee members. The committee decided to accept all papers. The program includes research and discussion sessions. Furthermore, we owe great thanks to the APSEC conference organization members for their dedication and professionalism in taking care of the many aspects of conference management.

We also want to thank all presenters and attendees for actively contributing to the success of APSEDEI 2022. We are looking forward to excellent presentations and fruitful discussions, which will broaden our professional horizons.
